

Crime category

Detailed information on crime categories

The crime categories represented on BTP's crime maps are the same categories used by Home Office forces, with the exception of anti-social behaviour, where non-notifiable public disorder offences are included in addition to the notifiable offences displayed by Home Office forces. The separate offence codes used in Scotland are also included where appropriate. Total notifiable offences are calculated by adding offences listed under 'Other notifiable offences' to the other crime categories detailed below (excluding non-notifiable anti-social behaviour).

The detailed offences which make up each crime category used are represented below:
